SECURITY INFORMATION

April 21, 1953

Dear Cabot:

To continue on the subject of your letter of 28 March, I have found that the SPONKE Reports do not contain what we had hoped for on encl and inhuman treatment beyond the Iron Curtain. These reports, which we receive from Germany, are to date only 37 in number, and they deal exclusively with Soviet defectors rather than satellite nationals. They stress general intelligence coverage instead of the particular subjects of interest to you. They do include several examples of experiences which, to be usable, would have to be adapted from the secret security category to protect the lives of relatives still under the Soviet regime. As we go ahead with our program in Korea, I still feel that we should stress continually the subject of communist inhumanities as you have done very effectively in your speeches following the Czech resolution. The refugee materials which the State Department recently obtained from Germany and sent you in that connection are being studied in that Department for further exploitation. I am also having prepared for your use a systematic list of Soviet violations of UN agreements, for what use you choose to make of it.

Allen Dulles made a speech last week on communist brainwashing before a Princeton alumni group at Hot Springs, Virginia.

If you have not seen a State Department document entitled: "Chinese Communist Methods of Extracting Confessions for Political Ends" (OIR 6198, 19 February 1953), I think it would be worth obtaining through your staff.

I hope to provide you with a continuing supply of stories from defector sources, with the assistance of RFE personnel in Europe. As I discover more material of this nature lying about Washington, I'll see that it is sent on to you as promptly as possible.

Sincerely,

C. D. Jackson
